A World Under the Waves

The Shipwreck Centre & Maritime Museum houses the largest exhibition of its kind in the UK.

Bursting with thousands of relics from shipwrecks and treasures from the deep, including beautiful "pieces of eight" Spanish gold, plus items salvaged from galleons, steam ships and wartime submarines.

See a fascinating display of antique diving equipment, Isle of Wight prehistory, dramatic shipwreck stories of pirates and smuggling, ship models and much more.

Free Activities

The museum offers a number of free activities for children during the visit - including a scavenger hunt, quiz and colouring pages.

Workshops

A number of workshops can be pre-booked too, including:

- Forgotten wrecks of the first world war

- The art of the museum
- The golden age of piracy
- The history of diving
- Maritime archaeology
- Pre-History
- Submarines and submariners

All are led by an education officer.

Mission

The museum's mission is to explore, share and display our submerged and maritime cultural heritage and strengthen understanding of how people's connection to the seas around us have shaped our culture.
